Dissolution of Corporation and transfer of its property, rights and liabilities

3.—(1) On the date appointed by the Minister for this Ordinance to come into force—

(a) the Corporation shall cease to exist and shall cease to carry out the duties and functions prescribed by the repealed Ordinance;

(b) the members of the Corporation shall cease to hold office; and

(c) the property, rights and liabilities to which the Corporation was entitled or subject to, shall, by virtue of this section, be transferred to and vested in the successor company without further conveyance, assignment or transfer whatsoever, to become the absolute property, rights and liabilities of the successor company.

(2) Every chose-in-action transferred by virtue of subsection (1)(c) to the successor company may, after the transfer date, be sued on, recovered or enforced by the successor company in its own name and it shall not be necessary for the successor company or the Corporation to give notice to the person bound by the chose-in-action of such transfer.

(3) Every right and liability transferred by virtue of subsection (1)(c) to the successor company may, on and after the transfer date, be sued on, recovered or enforced by or against the company in its own name and it shall not be necessary for the successor company or the Corporation to give notice to the person whose right and liability is affected by such transfer.

(4) In the case of rights and liabilities arising under any loans which vest in the successor company on the transfer date, the company may enter into such arrangements or agreements over such rights and liabilities with the Government of Malaysia or the Government of Sarawak or any third party.

Initial State Government's holding in the successor company

4.—(1) As a consequence of the transfer to or vesting in the successor company by virtue of section 3(1) of all property, rights and liabilities to which the Corporation was entitled or subject to, the successor company shall issue such shares as may be directed by the Minister—

(a) to the State Financial Secretary, to hold for the purposes of the Government of Sarawak; or

(2) Shares issued in pursuance of this section—

(a) shall be issued at such time and on such terms, as to allotment, as the Minister may direct;

(b) shall be of such nominal value as the Minister may direct; and

(c) shall be issued as fully paid up and treated for the purposes of the Companies Act 1965 [Act 125] as if such shares had been paid up by virtue of the payment to the successor company of their nominal value.

(3) The State Financial Secretary may, after consultation with the Minister, dispose of any shares issued or of any rights to shares initially allocated to it in pursuance of this section.

(4) The State Financial Secretary may, at any time, acquire—

Financial arrangements of the successor company

6.—(1) The Minister may, at any time before the successor company ceases to be wholly owned by the State Government, direct that such sum not exceeding the accumulated realized profits, revaluation reserve, capital development reserve and general reserve of the Corporation, be transferred by the successor company to a reserve, in this section referred to as “the statutory reserve”.

(2) The statutory reserve may only be applied by the successor company in paying up unissued shares of the company to be allotted to the State Financial Secretary or such person as the Minister shall direct as fully-paid bonus shares.

(3) For the purposes of any statutory accounts of the successor company—

(a) the transfer and vesting effected by virtue of section 3(1)(c) shall be taken to have been a transfer and vesting of property, rights and liabilities to which the Corporation was entitled or subject to immediately before the end of the last complete accounting year of the Corporation ending before the transfer date and to have been effected immediately after the end of that year;

(b) the value or amount of any asset or liability of the Corporation vested in the successor company shall be the value or amount assigned to that asset or liability for the purposes of the corresponding statement of accounts prepared by the Corporation, in respect of that year;

(d) the amount to be included from time to time in any reserves of the successor company as representing its accumulated realized profits shall be determined as if any profit realized and retained by the Corporation had been realized and retained by the successor company;

Existing licences and contracts, etc.

8.—(1) All licences held by or issued in the name of the Corporation, prior to the transfer date, under which the Corporation is operating or conducts its business, shall, subject to the approval of the authorities which issue or grant, such licences, be transferred to or become vested in the successor company.

(2) All deeds, bonds, instructions, agreements, undertakings and working arrangements subsisting immediately before the transfer date shall be of full force and effect against or in favour of the successor company, and enforceable as fully and effectively as if, instead of the Corporation, the successor company has been named therein or a party thereto.
